Personal Player Coaching

World Soccer Schools is proud to introduce Personal Player Coaching

Personal coaching will allow your child to be coached in their preferred playing position to develop his ability to ensure they are picked in that position each week and keep that position for the season.

Making a team is the start but ensuring your child is picked in the starting team each week at their preferred position is the GOAL for any aspiring Young Footballer.

Personal training is the best way to improve a player as you can spend time working on the players strengths and weakness in their individual playing positions.

Benefits of Personal Player Coaching

Personal Coaching will benefit a player as our low player to coach ratio(max. 2 players) will allow our coaches to target in on areas such as individuals technique, body positioning and player positioning. It will allow players to develop the individual qualities needed to play positions, helping them hone in on the strengths needed to ensure they are the retain their spot in their preferred position each week in starting eleven.

Players have the ability to choose what they want their child to be coached in: Example - Centre forward , Right forward , Centre Midfield , Right Back etc. etc. All 10 positions having different skills and strengths needed to be an Elite Player.
